THE SENATORIAL MUDDLE.

The State Democratic Executive Committee at its Hillboro meeting Friday voted to sustain the state senatorial primary law, which means that if neither of the senatorial candidates receive a majority of the votes cast in the general July primary, a second primary will be held so that the nomination for United States senator shall be made by a majority vote and not by a plurality vote. For this second primary is where the law falls down, in that it makes no provision for payment of the expenses of holding same. The executive committee decided that this expense should be borne by the state and county candidates. Just where the authority comes from to assess the state and county candidates for this second senatorial primary is not shown. Besides, at that time there will be no state and county candidates, the July primary having eliminated all except those who are the nominees of the party for the various offices. It is folly to talk about assessing these nominees, as there is no law under the sun by which the assessments could be enforced. There might be some ground for assessing the two high men in the senatorial race in whose interest the second primary is to be held, but it is doubtful if any two of them would be willing to shoulder the expense. It would swamp them and cost far more than they would ever get from the office, to say nothing of the man who was defeated. To the Eagle it looks like a muddle that will ultimately have to be solved by the courts.

DR. BIZZELL RETURNED FROM WASHINGTON

Believes the College Will Be Substantially Benefitted by Pending Legislation Before Congress.

That there is no doubt of the passage of the Pomerane-Gard bill, making more adequate provisions for the military departments of the land grant colleges, is the opinion of President W. B. Bizzell of the A. and M. College, who returned this week from Washington.

President Bizzell went to Washington to confer with representatives of leading land grant colleges in the interests of this bill and other legislation which has to do with these colleges and which is pending before the national congress. President Bizzell believes that the Pomerane-Gard bill will be a law by July of this year.

This bill provides, among other things, free uniforms for all cadets attending these institutions and taking military training and a ration allowance equivalent to about 25c per day per year for all junior and senior students taking military instruction. Tentage, horses for cavalry, wagons, field guns and other equipment also will be provided.

Another bill in which President Bizzell is vitally interested is the proposed bill to appropriate annually from federal funds $15,000 to be used in original research and investigation work along the lines of engineering problems. This money would be placed in the hands of the engineering experiment stations to conduct investigations with reference to sewage purification and its disposal, flood protection, architecture, road construction, irrigation and drainage and other such fields.

NEED OF GOOD TEACHERS.

County Superintendent Urges Trustees to Use Care in Selecting Teachers.

Twenty-two white and twelve colored applicants—thirty-four in all—are taking the examinations for teachers' certificates. This is, I'm told, the largest number ever enrolled for examinations.

Our county has secured $1,500 of the million-dollar fund for rural schools, $500 each for Kurten, Reliance and Wellborn.

All these things mean progress, development, the things we need. But all this is to little purpose, unless our district trustees exercise care and discretion in the selection of teachers. The personality of the teacher is the most vital force in the school room. Don't let kinship, friendship, political "pull" decide. Put before you your little child's soul hunger for growth and act for it. I am ready to help you.

BIG WEEK FOR A. & M. COLLEGE

Full Outline of Interesting Events Planned for A. and M. During the Coming Week.

Plans for the "big week" at the A. and M. College are complete and if Jupe Pluvius doesn't pay a belated call during Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Farmers will score the biggest triumph in the history of the college. Three big days of fun, athletics and social events are scheduled for the week-end.

Indications point to participation by an unequalled number of the high schools and academies of Texas in the two days inter-scholastic meet. Dallas, San Antonio, Houston, Galveston, Marlin, Mineral Wells, Greenville high schools, Allen Academy, West Texas Military Academy, Alexander Collegiate Institute of Jacksonville, Bryant School for Boys, Fort Worth and other academies will send their best men to take part in the annual track and field meets, which will be a feature of the three big days at A. and M.

The track meet will begin Friday morning, with the running of most of the preliminaries in both the high school and academy classes. Friday is a holiday, known at A. and M. as High School Day. In the afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock and continuing until 4 the remainder of the preliminaries and some of the finals will be run. The finals will be concluded Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, and concluding at 3:30 o'clock.

Two baseball games between the University of Texas and A. and M. will be another feature which will attract many former students and hundreds of visitors from nearby towns. The first game will be played Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the second game Friday at 4 o'clock, at the conclusion of the track meet. A. and M. stands a good chance to win both of these games, the Aggies think, and there are many old students who take especial delight in seeing the Long Horns humbled by the A. and M. men.

Saturday afternoon at the conclusion of the track meet the annual spring carnival will be held. Tent shows, penny arcades, vaudeville show and stunts representing the various engineering and agricultural departments, showing the work of those departments, with open air attractions will be staged. The college grounds present the appearance of a "regular" carnival with a tented city, bands playing and a well-organized force of spicers. Dancing in the gymnasium is another feature of the carnival. In the afternoon an agricultural parade with floats from various departments, live stock, farm machinery and other equipment, and clowns, formally open the carnival. This parade is led by the queen of the carnival, whose identity is kept secret until the ball given in her honor Thursday night. Maids, princesses and maids from Texas cities and schools also are honored at this ball and in the parade.

The queen's ball this year will be one of the most elaborate dances of the year. At least 100 young women from various Texas cities will be present at the college during these three days and all will participate in the ball honoring her majesty.

Friday night the Ross Volunteer ball, the social attraction of first rank will be held. This dance has been held each April for the past twenty years. The grand march will be led by Walter S. Braumiller of Texarkana, captain of the Ross Volunteers, and Miss Russell Hughes of San Antonio.

Saturday night dancing at the carnival will be the order of the evening. Indications are that at least 300 visitors will be at the college for these three days, which will combine all of the spring activities in one week-end.
